

Budget Travel

June 2009

DESTINATION FOOD

Secret Restaurants of Celebrity Foodies

We asked the world's best chefs, cookbook authors, food writers, cooking-show hosts, and specialty-food purveyors to tell us where they love to eat. The answers are all over the map (literally!), but there's one thing all the places have in common: Every one of them is worth traveling to.

By Megan Wetherall

Vietnam Restaurant Philadelphia

I bring my kitchen staff over for the beef-stuffed grape leaves on the B.B.Q. Platter (221 N. 11th St., 215/592-1163, entrées from $9).

—Masaharu Morimoto